

My internship in Portugal

— Patrycja Kwitkowska 3twa —

Why do I want to go on an internship in Portugal?

There are many reasons why I would love to go there.
I will present them in the following slides.

A vibrant coastal town built on a hillside overlooking the ocean. The buildings are colorful and densely packed, with a mix of traditional and modern architecture. In the foreground, a colorful boat with a yellow and red hull and a white cabin is on the water. The boat has several people on board and is decorated with colorful flags. The water is blue and calm. The sky is clear and blue. The overall scene is bright and lively.

The daily routine of a resident of Portugal

I have always been curious about people's lives abroad. Does it look the same as for Poles, or is it different? If I go there, I will experience it myself.

A scenic view of a coastal town built on a cliffside at sunset. The town features white buildings with red-tiled roofs. In the foreground, there is a natural rock pool and a sandy beach. The ocean is visible on the left side of the image. The text "New language" is overlaid in the center.

New language

This trip will let me learn Portuguese and will develop my mind
and vocabulary while there.

Nutrition and dishes

Being in Portugal, I can try different dishes than those I eat every day. I can also learn how to prepare them.

Veterinary position and practice

In the office where I will practice, I will learn new methods of dealing with animals and use new veterinary equipment. I will learn about their everyday lives and develop my future workplace.

Nature and plants

I am interested in botany, so when I go there, I will definitely learn about different varieties of plants and I will be able to see new species of plants that grow only in Portugal in person.

A narrow street in a historic town, likely in Spain, with a colorful tiled wall in the foreground. The wall features a repeating geometric pattern of blue, yellow, and black tiles. The street is paved with cobblestones and lined with traditional buildings. A person is visible in the distance on the left side of the street.

Traditions and history

I have always been curious about the culture and holidays celebrated in other countries. If I spend three weeks on an internship, there might come a day when a holiday is celebrated. It will be an extraordinary experience for me.

Thank you for your attention!

Sources of materials used:

- Pinterest - Pixabay - Canva - my private photos

